

"OLD SHANKS" HOT SPEECH.

Attacks Inner Workings of the Dark Tobacco Association.

CREATES SENSATION.

Sequel to the Dissension That Developed at Guthrie.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 1.—A sensation has been caused among the members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association by a speech delivered at Kaysburg, Ky., to several hundred people by W. P. Anderson, one of the most prominent members of the association, condemning the inner workings of that body. He attacked the officers of that organization, who, he said, were receiving high salaries for little work. Mr. Anderson, by way of explanation, said that it befell his lot to deliver to his neighbors and friends some news which he had just discovered in the inner workings of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association. He said it was the most painful duty it had ever fallen to his lot to perform, but he had never shranked duty and he considered that the facts he had should go before the people. He said the very thing had happened that the enemies of the Association said would happen. The officials, or rather a few of them, had voted themselves high salaries that are out of all proportion to the duties of labor they are called to perform.

The Advisory Committee, composed of Dr. J. W. Dunn, Polk Prince, and Joe Jackson, are receiving $2,100 per year. The treasurer, George Snadon, is receiving $2,500; the secretary, Mrs. N. E. Greene, $1,500, and John Allen $1,800, while Joe Fort, who had done more real good for the Association than any other man, had received $1,200 and paid his own expenses. As President of the Association, he said, Mr. Charles Fort only receives $5 at each meeting of the Executive Committee. He said that the officers had made it so unpleasant for Mr. Joe Fort that he had handed in his resignation.

Mr. Anderson said that he intended to carry the fight before the people against what he conceived to be existing abuses within the Association.

It is said that Mr. Anderson was frequently and vociferously cheered during the delivery of his speech.

REV. E. N. DICKEN

Falls From Step-Ladder and Breaks His Right Arm.

Rev. E. N. Dicken, the well known Baptist minister, had the misfortune to fall from a step-ladder at his home in this place yesterday and severely fractured his right arm at the elbow. He was attempting to get a peach when the accident happened. The fracture is a very serious and painful one and may cause a stiff arm. Only a few minutes before the accident Mr. Dicken had performed the marriage ceremony for his brother preacher, Rev. Tobias Ham, of Bowling Green.—Franklin Favorite.

MRS. MATTIE LAFFOON, Mother of Mrs. J. P. Nuckols, Is Dead.

Mrs. Mattie Laffoon, mother of Mrs. J. P. Nuckols, of this city, died Thursday at her home in Madisonville, aged seventy-six years. She had been in feeble health for some time and spent several weeks here with her daughter recently. Mrs. Nuckols accompanied her home and was with her when she died. Mrs. Laffoon was a member of the Baptist church. She is survived by three children, Mrs. J. P. Nuckols, Ruby Laffoon and Mrs. J. W. Rash.

HARGIS AT LAST HAS RESIGNED

From The Democratic State Central Committee—Demands Too Strong.

DEMOCRATIC PRESS

Resignation will Silence Argument Republicans would have Used in Campaign.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 1.—Pressed by a majority of the Democratic newspapers of the state, James Hargis, member of the Democratic state central committee from the Tenth congressional district, has at last resigned his position in a letter addressed to Chairman McQuown from Lexington.

For over a year the newspapers and prominent members of the party have been demanding that Hargis resign and it is believed that the announcement of his resignation will add a tower of strength to the Democratic ticket, as it silences one of the most powerful arguments of the Republican party in Kentucky.

Dr. Jenkins Will Preach To-Morrow Night.

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins has returned from Dawson and will preach to-morrow at the Baptist church. His sermon at night will be No. 7 of the travel series, "Palestine—The Land of Holy Memories." There will be three sermons on this subject. This will be the first, "On the Sea of Galilee—The Golden Days of Christ's Ministry."

Christian County Horse Show.

The fourth annual Christian County Horse Show, to be held at Pembroke Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 15, 16 and 17, promises to be the most interesting event of its kind to be held in Southern Kentucky this year. In fact, it is the only real Horse Show in Kentucky, outside Louisville. Exhibitions are held both day and night, the grounds being brilliantly lighted by thousands of electric lights for the night exhibitions. The entries so far indicate that the number of horses to be shown this year will more than double the number shown heretofore, and they are Kentucky's best.

Friday and Friday night, Aug. 16, will be Hopkinsville day and night at the horse show, and all Hopkinsville is expected.

FARMERS FIGHT ONE IS KILLED.

Encounter Near Crofton In Which D. E. Alsbrook Is Slain

JAS. DUNNING USED GUN.

Coroners Inquest Held Thursday—Dunning Out on Bond.

Jas. I. Dunning shot and killed D. E. Alsbrook, in the road, near Crofton, Wednesday afternoon. Dunning went to Crofton and surrendered to Marshal Long, who held him in custody until Thursday and brought him to jail. He gave bond and returned home the same day.

Dunning's story is that Alsbrook had told him not to pass by his house any more, as there was an old grudge between them, and that he passed by where Alsbrook was cutting briars with a scythe and was attacked by him as he sat on his mule, and shot him in self defense, when close to him. The weapon used was a single-barrel shotgun and the charge of No. 4 shot entered his throat and chest, producing instant death.

Coroner Allensworth held an inquest Thursday. Claud Alsbrook testified that he was at home and heard the shot and saw Dunning with his gun running down the road with his two boys, William and Bradley.

J. R. Fuller said he heard the report of the gun, was about 400 yards away. Heard screaming and rushed to the scene and found Alsbrook dead in his wife's lap and saw Dunning and his two sons going towards their home. The boys were on mules and running them.

J. M. Martin said that Dunning worked for him July 31 and told him that Alsbrook had told him that he did not want any of "that kinky head set to pass through here any more." Dunning left his home with the gun. Lonnie Alsbrook said he saw Dunning and his sons meet his father and the elder Dunning shot him and then all ran towards their home.

The Jury, of which J. W. Hendrix was foreman, rendered a verdict to the effect that Alsbrook was killed by Dunning near the former's house, about six o'clock. There was no expression of opinion as to whether the killing was justifiable or not.

Both the men were middle-aged farmers and near neighbors.

Tobacco Association Adopts Strong Resolutions Against Lawlessness.

HARMFUL TO CAUSE.

The Kentuckian's Stand For Law and Order Sustained By Directors in Session.

Guthrie, Ky., July 30, 1907. To the Kentuckian:

The following resolutions were read and adopted by the Board of Directors of the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia in session at Guthrie, Ky., Friday July 26, 1907.

Resolved: The members of the Board of Directors of the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, in regular meeting assembled, take this method of again defining its attitude in relation to the lawless acts reported in some counties of our District. We deeply regret that such acts do occur, and we hereby again express our earnest disapproval of same. As the official representatives of the Association, having its true interests at heart, we call upon every good citizen to join with us in an effort to discountenance same, and if any friends of the Association believe that acts of personal violence and terrorism are conducive to its best interest, we emphatically say that we do not accept that idea. We hold and believe that it is only by a consistent adherence to the theory of good citizenship and a due respect for the laws under which we all live, that any people working together for any legitimate purpose can maintain their proper self respect, peaceful conscience and command the respect of others. We demand that this Association as a body shall be respected in all its acts, and at the same time we declare that so far as in our power lies, we will recommend and exact a similar observation of the lawful rights of others. We are opposed to all violation of law. We have not sufficient facts before us, to express any conclusion as to the facts in the cases reported, as to who are the guilty parties, nor as to whether or not they are members of the Association, but because it has been stated that this violation has been committed by members of this Association, we again wish to express our hearty disapproval of all crimes. We suggest however that this Association cannot in justice be held responsible for the crimes of those who pledge their crops to it to be sold for them by it, any more or to any greater extent, than a bank can be held responsible for the acts of its depositors or a newspaper be held responsible for the acts of its subscribers. In the agitated state of public mind, as a natural sequence, but we appeal to the good sense and true manhood, that inflexible character that has guided us thus far, to assert its self and hold in check the disposition to retaliate for many wrongs we have suffered.

Mrs. N. E. Greene, Secretary. By order of Board of Directors. July 28, 1907.

Very Quiet.

Matters are very quiet in police circles. An old fashioned drunk, which cost the fabulous individual $6, was the only cause that city Judge Brasher handled Thursday. Two arrests were made Friday for loitering but the parties were discharged. All three of the men were white.

The American Quail.

The quail or partridge, as it is called in the Southern States, is an inhabitant of North America, from Canada and Nova Scotia to Florida, and has been seen in the interior of Louisiana. These birds rarely frequent the forest and are most numerous in the vicinity of well cultivated plantations, where there is plenty of grain. They, however, occasionally seek shelter in the woods, but are found most usually in open fields or along fences sheltered by thickets of briar. In winter they approach the barns and sometimes mix with the poultry. At this time great numbers of them are shot and taken in traps.

The quail builds its nest on the ground at the bottom of a thick tuft of grass that shelters and conceals it. The materials are leaves and fine dry grass. It is well covered, above and an opening left for entrance. The young are guided by their mother's voice, which resembles that of a young chicken, and sheltered by her wings in the same manner as those of the domestic fowl. In this situation should the timid little family be unexpectedly surprised, the utmost alarm and consternation instantly prevails.

The mother throws herself in the path, fluttering along and beating the ground with her wings as if severely wounded; using every artifice she is mistress of to entice the passenger in pursuit of herself; uttering at the same time peculiar notes of alarm, well understood by the young who dive separately along the grass and secrete themselves till the danger is over; and the parent having decoyed the pursuer to a safe distance returns by a circuitous route to collect and lead them off.

In the fall quail associate in flocks or coveys of four or five and thirty. At this time the notes of the male are frequent, loud and distinct. His common call consists of two notes and is similar to the sound produced by pronouncing "Bob White." This call may be imitated by whistling, thus deceiving the bird itself and decoying it near. While uttering this the bird is usually perched on the rail of a fence or on a low limb of an apple tree, where he will sometimes sit, repeating at intervals, "Bob White" for half an hour at a time.

The food of this bird consists of grain, seeds, insects and berries of various kinds. Buckwheat and corn are particular favorites. They roost at night in the middle of a field on high ground. They fly with a whizzing sound, occasioned by the shortness, concavity and rapid motion of their wings and their comparative weight of their bodies. The flesh is peculiarly white, tender and delicate. This quail is nine inches long; it is of a red, brown color, sprinkled with black. The under parts are white, spotted with black and the sides of the neck spotted with white. In my next article on quails for Item I shall treat upon the Californian and European quail, and space permitting I will prepare an article describing the partridge.—A. V. Meersch, in Poultry Item.

A Fearless Press On Night Riding.

Shoot to Kill.

The following letter appears in the Owensboro Inquirer, who describes its anonymous author as "a leading lawyer and able jurist."

Some of our neighboring counties are infected just now with hands of lawless miscreants, who are called "night riders." I object to the designation as insufficient and misleading. It does not describe the band referred to. I know not how it came to be thus misapplied. It must be admitted it's difficult to find a term that is descriptive. But when an outlaw, an assassin, an anarchist, marauder and would-be murderer is simply called a "night rider" the English language is a miserable failure. Judging the character of these bands by their deeds the conclusion is unavoidable that they are public enemies; that they are savages; that they are cowardly and brutal; that they ought to be hunted like wild beasts and shot down as such when found.

They pretend friendship for farmers' organizations, but their pretenses are basely false and are intended to mislead. They are friends to no one. They have all the vices of the anarchist with none of his courage of conviction. They are wonderfully brave when they surprise an unarmed, defenseless citizen, and are wonderfully daring if he is a poor man or friendless. The intrepid manner in which they shoot down women and children is striking. Injuring crops, burning barns, setting traps of dynamite in wheat threshers, driving people from their homes and from the State—these things, and much more of the same order, occur and the criminals are not even arrested.

Grand juries sit and judges expatiate, but nothing comes of it. A reign of terror seems beginning. It looks as if the stories of Orchard in the Haywood case are to be duplicated. The good name of the State is being sullied, yet no special effort is being made to suppress the fearful state of affairs. The longer it continues the worse it becomes. The Jimmune criminal does not reform.

Every good citizen should set about stopping this carnival of crime and lose no time in so doing. The miscreants can be all killed or jailed in a month. Let the work begin. Let every one understand that shooting these fellows down in lawful. No grand jury would indict for such a commendable act. AGRICOLA.

Shame on State.

All Kentuckians must read with a measure of shame, the comments being made by the eastern press on the depredations enacted almost nightly by the night riders in the dark tobacco section of Kentucky.

Always ready and willing to cast a slur at Kentucky these recent depredations have presented sufficient fuel for a goodly bunch of abuse dished out generously by the newspapers of the east. While they, as a matter of course, magnify in a manner the depredations of the night riders, naught can be said in defense of these modern outlaws, who in a spirit of madness, have taken into their own hands to settle by fire and sword, as it were, matters and conditions that should be adjusted in an entirely different manner.

Whatever they may have gained for their cause, and we fear it has been but little, the night riders have heaped upon Kentucky a measure of shame and disgrace that must leave its mark for many years.

The days of outlawry and half-savage adjustment of human affairs are past, and such acts as are perpetrated by the night riders in the name of justice are but a mockery of the name, and the agents in whose hands rest the responsibility of these crimes, deserve not only the severest censure of all law-abiding citizens, but the just punishment of the law as well.

However heartily one may be in sympathy with the fight of the farmers against the organization that oppresses them, no right-seeming man can for a moment suppose of hope to aid these conditions by such acts as have recently darkened this section of Kentucky.—Paducah News Democrat.

The Triumph of Mob Rule.

Still another story of terror, intimidation and anarchy comes from Trigg county. The home of Stephen Mosely is riddled with bullets while the family sleeps. Mr. and Mrs. Mosely are wounded and the child-en's lives are endangered.

It is a familiar story. For a year or so the anarchists have been busy perpetrating their outrages upon farmers of the neighborhood, their families and their crops. Hardly a week passes that does not bring with it a fresh instance of coercion, lawlessness and the interference with the rights of citizens.

How long is this situation to be permitted by the public authorities to continue? How long is mob rule to override the law? When will those charged with the task and who have given their solemn oaths to perform their duty wake up and do that duty? When will the law officers stand up for the law?

The present spectacle of weak, cringing and recreant officers giving anarchy the right of way is humiliating.—Courier Journal.

Calls For Impeachment.

When it is considered that to kill the "night rider" wherever caught is only riding the community of an assassin who seeks the cover of darkness to commit his desperate deeds, and that he is no respecter of persons even though they may be women and children, it may be readily understood even by the person who is not versed in the law that there would be no punishment under the law for a person killing a "night rider."

However, it seems that the "night riders" might be effectively suppressed by the civil authorities of Christian, Trigg, Caldwell and Lyon counties, if the civil authorities have not been intimidated to the point of being afraid of making an effort along that line, or who may be too cowardly to do so because they fear the influence of the "night riders" at the polls. If such a state of affairs exists as means that the county officials are not going to do anything, let the state officers take the situation in hand. Let Gov. Beckham go after the "night riders," and while he is suppressing them, let him also take the cowardly county officials in hand, and if they don't get a move on them in helping to rid the country of the brutal "night riders," rid the offices of incumbents who disgrace the people whom they were elected to serve. It is time for the "night rider" to be put out of business, and the Inquirer believes that if the authorities will he do their duty in the case that in a short time good order and law will take the place of murder and destruction of property, and the time is now overdue for the authorities to act.—Owensboro Enquirer.

Night Riders Must Go.

We believe that the time has come for plain speaking. The good name of the State is in danger, and the responsibility for the deplorable laxity in rounding up the perpetrators of these outrages rests upon all the citizens alike. Some there are who tell that there has been much exaggeration in the stories. Are not the facts patent and beyond doubt?

If the county officials cannot or will not act, then we must look for relief higher up. Let the cure come from where it will, one thing is sure—the "Night Riders" must go!—Henderson Journal.

Two Of A Kind

The "Night Riders" and the "Black Hand" are of one and the same sort, and pretty soon Western Kentucky is going to acquire a mighty unsavory reputation by reason of permitting the farmers to go free of punishment and even of an attempt of punishment. We of the Pennyryle are wont to thank our God that we are not as the mountaineers are, sounds woefully like the boostings of a Pharisee.—Owensboro Messenger.

HORRIBLE, IF TRUE.

One of the most remarkable statements yet made by any one in regard to the lawlessness in Trigg county, is contained in the belated account of the mobbing of S. P. Moseley's family, published in the Cadiz Record, as part of an article attempting to belittle the midnight outrage. The following extract contains the sensational charge:

"The reports first published stated that the house of Moseley was shot all to pieces and that at least a wall full of glass could have been picked up on the floors of his house. We have seen several of the best citizens of that community who have been by Mr. Moseley's home since this occurrence, and they say that there is very little if any sign of the house being 'shot up' at all, and that they were unable to see where any of the windows had been broken. However, ALL LIVING WITHIN HALF A MILE of his residence agree that there was evidently some whipping going on, judging from the PLEADINGS THAT COULD BE HEARD THAT NIGHT."

Here the bold, bare charge is made against not one but all of Moseley's neighbors living within half a mile, who for some reason not stated happened to be awake at 1:30 o'clock, that they heard the pleadings of the family, both father and mother wounded and bleeding, crying aloud until all of their neighbors heard them half a mile away and yet not one of the "best citizens" went to their relief. This is the worst charge yet brought against the people of Boaring Spring.

The editor of the Record owes it to the people of Trigg county to tell who these inhuman wretches were, who made this confession to him. Has any one of them been "to" as well as "by" Mr. Moseley's, or expressed a word of sympathy for his wife and children? Has any one of them had the courage or the inclination to tell what he saw and heard and what somebody must know if all of the people within half a mile were awake and knew what was "going on"? In the name of decency, who are these people who knew so much and yet tell nothing to the officers of the law? Here are the witnesses to one of the most dastardly and fiendish outrages that ever went unpunished in any county. Will the Record name them or contents knowledge?

It has been supposed that the dissensions in the ranks of the Tobacco Association at the Guthrie meeting were due to differences of opinion between factions on questions of policy, but from a speech by a prominent member at Keysburg, it developed that money matters are causing some of the friction. Those who have been figuring on the legitimate assets of the association for 1906 are startled at the magnitude of the funds available. The sale of 35,000 hogsheads at an average of $140, brought in $5,300,000. The 24 hundred commission, worth 10 pounds, that becomes the property of the association, would make $80,000 worth, which sold at 7 cents would bring $28,000. Then the sale of two hogsheads of trash to every hundred hogsheads, at $3.50, would bring in

Blood Humors

Commonly cause pimples, boils, hives, eczema, or salt rheum, or some other form of eruption, but sometimes they exist in the system, indicated by feelings of weakness, languor, loss of appetite, or general debility, without causing any breaking out.

Hood's Sarsaparilla expels them, renovates, strengthens and cures the whole system. This is the testimony of thousands annually. Accept no substitute, but insist on having

Hood's Sarsaparilla
In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsaparilla, 100 doses in grand total of $99,850. These figures may be much too large, but other estimates go as high as $135,000. At any rate, the association is in such a healthy state that it is in condition to pay a very large dividend on its capital stock of $200.

Keep your eye on the men who belittle or justify the outrages committed by night riders. Such will be wanted when the upheaval comes. As sure as God reigns, an end will come to lawlessness in Western Kentucky and somebody else will land in the penitentiary besides the two poor men, one of them a negro, in Caldwell county, who confessed to an act of retaliation.

While walking a trotline near Georgetown, whether he had been summoned as a witness in the Powers case, "Tallow Dick" Combs, colored hard-bustard, was run down and killed by a train. In addition to being implicated in the Goebel murder case, Combs was a figure in the notorious French-Eversole feud.

Passengers from foreign countries will hereafter not be subjected to great hardships from customs examinations. New instructions have been issued by the Treasury Department. Entry blanks may be filled out at any time during the voyage, and no oath will be required.

The Henderson papers say the Cumberland Telephone Co. has put on a toll charge of 10 cents to county towns in Henderson county and has put up the night rate to the day rate figures over the whole system. There is much dissatisfaction and indignant protest.

The senatorial contest in Mississippi is so close between Williams and Vardeman that both are claiming it. Chances seem to favor Williams on the partial returns.

Judge Jas. E. Robbins withdrew from the Powers case this week after refusing to be sworn off the bench. A new judge will be named.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

JOHN C. DUFFY

Writes Card in Reply to The Courier Journal Editorial.

To the Public:

The Courier-Journal of July 27th, under the heading "The worst governed state," accused the State administration and the officials of Christian and Trigg counties with being responsible for the acts of lawlessness in these counties arising out of the fight of the Tobacco Growers against the Tobacco Trust. This indictment was sweeping in its terms and characteristic of its attack on the State Administration.

Having taken a strong and positive stand for law and order, and having done all in my power to uphold the good name of my county, I mailed the Courier-Journal a reply to this unwarranted attack so far as it applied to myself and other officers of Christian county, but having libeled me with the other county officials it has failed to show me the courtesy of publishing my reply.

It is true that my name was not called and that I am neither Sheriff, Constable, Policeman nor Detective but as County Attorney it is my duty to prosecute all persons charged with offenses in the Inferior Courts and to assist the Commonwealth's Attorney in the Circuit Court. If I have failed in any of these, I am guilty of the indictment made by the Courier-Journal and deserve the condemnation of all law-abiding people, but if not guilty, I have been grossly libeled by this great paper.

Judge Breathitt, a Republican, and I, a Democrat, became County Judge and County Attorney respectively on January 1st, 1906, and from that to this although many deprecations of this character have been committed in this county, no one has offered to swear out a warrant for the offenders before any Justice or the County Judge. For that reason no warrant has ever been issued by any no one has ever been prosecuted by me in any of the inferior courts. At the February and June terms of the Christian Circuit Court for this year Judge Cook's charge to the Grand Jury on this character of offenses was especially a rung, as is well known by everybody. Every known offense of this character was thoroughly investigated. Every witness who was supposed to know anything about the deprecations was summoned before the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury was held over into the third week of Court for the sole purpose of investigating these outrages.

Private detectives were called upon for assistance. In most cases it appeared that a farmer had received a note of warning stating what he must do and what would happen if he did not comply. He did not, and soon afterward discovered that his plant bed had been scraped or sown in grass, but beyond seeing a few tracks he knew nothing of who did it. In two others strong circumstantial evidence was discovered but the Grand Jury did not finally pass on them and left them open for the next grand jury for the reason that some of the witnesses who were in other counties did not appear and were necessary to make out a case. I have never failed or refused to do my duty in this or any other matter as a prosecuting officer, and I challenge the Courier-Journal in the face of its sweeping indictment to one case in any particular connected with these outrages in which I or any other officer of Christian county (for that matter) have failed to do my whole duty. The charge that it is the fault of the officials of Christian county is as absurd as the statements that the State Administration has more power to stop klukskism in Christian county than it has to close Sunday saloons in Jefferson County. An offender cannot be prosecuted until he is caught. Even a police officer under the old regime in Jefferson county could sometimes find a saloon open on Sunday, and the offense being committed in his presence he had a right to make the arrest without a warrant. But not so with the "Night Rider." He must be known before he can be caught, he must be caught before he can be prosecuted. What can the State Administration do against the so-called klukskism in Christian county. It has already offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the offenders. Troops in this apparently peaceful county would be less effective than a regiment of British soldiers for hunting tigers in India. The charge of the Courier-Journal is utterly false and not warranted by a single fact.

Respectfully,
JNO. C. DUFFY,
County Attorney.
Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 2nd 1907.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

New Order Will Be Rigidly Enforced To-morrow.

The Mayor's amended order regulating the closing last Sunday resulted in the drug stores, fruit stores, confectioneries, baker shops, soda fountains, cigar stands and similar places of business, heretofore kept open at will, being closed at 11 o'clock a. m., re-opened at 4 p. m. and again closed at 7 p. m. This requires all business houses to close during the regular hours for church services morning and evening. The sale of bottle goods is altogether prohibited on Sunday. Ice wagons are allowed to make one delivery in the forenoon. No restrictions are placed on the sale of medicines or newspapers, or the serving of meals by restaurants.

Soft drinks were sold in violation of the order at one place last Sunday, under a mistaken construction, but this will not occur again. If you are bound to have bottled drinks, you would do well to buy them to-night.

THE INSTITUTE

Musical Features and Presentation of Diplomas.

Most Successful Ever Held, Says Prof. Gray.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

The circuit court room was full Thursday night. The recitation by Miss Vera Jones was a treat to the large crowd. A vocal solo by Miss Mary Graeme Starling so delighted the audience that she had to surrender and sang an encore. Miss Hattie Hale's solo called for an encore, but she did not respond owing to the length of the program. Miss Lucy Starling likewise delighted the audience with a violin solo with piano accompaniment by Katherine Long.

Mayor Meacham, at the request of Prof. Gray, presented nine of the thirteen graduates with their diplomas. His impromptu remarks before handing over the sheepskins to the ambitious young pupils were quite appropriate and felicitous. As his custom he injected a few of his original jokes as a sort of flavor to put the teachers and every body in good humor. His happy allusions to the preceding county superintendent and the incumbent were well received. Four of the graduates were not present and he supposed that each of them might have thought he would be the last to receive the certificate of honor that had been conferred, and he didn't want to be the 13th, as that is considered an unlucky number.

The lecture of Dr. Willis on "The Making of a Man," which was the last on the program, was patiently waited for and held the audience until 9:30. What the Doctor said was like a string of pearls, but the trouble was he didn't have the time to say enough. He only spoke about 30 minutes, which cut two-thirds off his lecture. This is the third successive year Doctor Willis has been here, and as an instructor he has won the highest esteem of all who met him and heard his "talks," as he calls them.

CLOSING SESSIONS.

The first part of the morning session was taken up by Willis in a most excellent talk on "Hygiene in the Public Schools." This "talk," like all the Doctor's subjects, was full of many good things for his hearers and they will take to heart many valuable suggestions that cannot fail to be of great benefit to children's health while in a close school room. If they will put into practice the methods suggested by Dr. Willis there will be less cause for children's health giving away under close study.

At the opening of the afternoon session Dr. Willis completed his talk on hygiene in the school room. Miss Wescott followed in one of the very best of all her splendid talks on "Story Telling." The cultivation of this faculty is generally associated today. The author of Mrs. Wiggins' Cabbage Patch, one of the best selling books of the decade, had a wonderful power of narration in her early childhood.

The session closed with the report of the committee on resolutions? Prof. Gray said yesterday afternoon that the institute had come up to and even surpassed everything that he had hoped for it.

R. H. KELTON

Taken to Ashland City By Constable.

A constable arrived here from Ashland City Wednesday night and left Thursday in charge of R. H. Kelton, who was wanted there for obtaining money under false pretenses. It was alleged.

Kelton was arrested by officers Cees Claxton and Outlaw at the Dehring-Frank Lumber Co., where he had obtained employment as driver. He agreed to accompany the constable without an application for a requisition on the Governor.

Released.

The two tramps who were arrested by Officer Joe Claxton, on the supposition of having secreted two suit cases in a field back of Mr. E. B. Long's residence, were released Thursday, as there was no incriminating evidence against them.

The suit cases are still unidentified. One of them contained two pairs of shoes and two suits of clothes. One of the suits is new and has the selling price, $12, on it. One pair of the shoes is nearly new. The other suit case had nothing in it except a pair of suspenders.

SALUBRIA HOTEL

Has Received the Finishing Touches and a Beauty.

Certificates of Stock Being Issued and Everything Ready.

The Salubria Springs Hotel has received the finishing touches and the building to be used for cooking will be completed today or Monday.

Mr. D. L. Lander has made a formal transfer of the ground to the company and the deed was filed for record last Thursday. J. W. Cross, J. B. Carter and D. L. Lander were the incorporators when the company was organized.

Certificates of stock are now being issued as rapidly as possible to subscribers. The civil engineer has been on the ground several days surveying and superintending the grading. A number of teams and scrapers have been used and the whole work will be completed shortly, when the division of lots will take place.

The L. & N. railroad company will co-operate with the Hotel company and will do everything possible toward making the hotel what it is sure to be.

A representative of this paper inspected the hotel a few days ago and it is everything that has been claimed for it as a rural summer resort.

It is a short distance from the railroad and people from the city will find it a great place to spend their Sundays in hot weather and at the same time have all the water privileges of regular boarders at the hotel. The table will be supplied with everything the market affords and will be under the management of a caterer of many years' experience. Nothing will be left undone to make visitors comfortable and the company is to be congratulated on its evident wisdom in giving the people a building that will compare favorably with others of its kind in this section of the country, as well as the push and the great energy it has displayed in erecting so large and complete a building in so short a time. Here's to the greatest success of the gentlemen financially interested. May they reap the reward of their efforts and may they soon throw open the doors to the public.

BUNCH OF SIX

Federal Prisoners are Caught By Marshall Cundiff.

Deputy Marshall T. J. Cundiff has rounded up six colored prisoners who will be taken to Owensboro in a day or two to answer offenses against federal laws. One of these is Goldie Johnson, a negro woman who wrote an obscene letter to Chief of Police Roper, who has been away some time. She was caught in Clarksville, and will be tried today. Upshur O'Brien was out on bond on a charge of retailing and was re-arrested.

Joe Poindexter and Alex Tuck were arrested near Garrettsburg on a charge of retailing and were to be tried last night before Commissioner Yonts.

Caperton Brown and Lonnie Manning were arrested in Todd county charged with robbing the post office at Allensville and are in jail in default of a $500. bond.

MANY FINE SALES.

Being Made in Real Estate by Planters' Bank & Trust Co.

Another handsome deal in real estate, consummated by the Planters' Bank & Trust Co., was reported in our last issue. It was the sale of a fine farm near Pembroke to Mr. Geo. W. Wills. Under the active management of the hustling Vice-President, T. J. McReynolds, the real estate branch of this strong institution's business is constantly growing and many sales are made in city and county property. Those having property to sell, or those wishing to buy either town lots or farm lands, are advised to communicate with Mr. McReynolds, who is in a position to serve them most satisfactorily.

GREAT BALL GAME

Boston National League Team Coming to Central City August 7th.

It was advertised throughout Western Kentucky that the Boston National League Base Ball Team would play at Central City the 6th of last April, but just before the team left its training quarters at Thomasville, Ga. one of their players, Harry Dolan, died, and all of their southern exhibitions were canceled so that the team could attend the funeral of their comrade. But Manager John T. May, of the Central City Athletic Association, met President George B. Doy, of the Boston National League Base Ball Company at Cincinnati, when he played there a few weeks ago, and accompanied him to St. Louis and arranged for him to bring his team to Central City, Wednesday August 7th., and this high class base ball attraction will, without any kind of doubt, be seen there on that date.

This is an unprecedented affair in the history of ball. Never before did a big league team stop to play a game in a small town, or a large one, either, in this section of the country. Central City will enjoy the distinction of being the only town south of the Ohio River that ever played a National League team during the championship season and the people living in this section of Kentucky should not fail to avail themselves of this single opportunity to see such a big ball game. Arrangements will be made with the railroads for special rates and excursion trains for those who cannot be accommodated by the regular trains. The game will be called at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

Elect Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The Christian county Rural Carriers' association elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, E. E. Bradshaw; vice President, E. F. Coyner; Secretary, T. M. Davis; Treasurer, W. B. Dillman. T. M. Davis was chosen as a delegate to represent the county at the State meeting to be held at Dawson, September 2.

An Event in Sunday Journalism.

The people of the middle West are rapidly discovering that the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record-Herald is not only a real magazine but also one of the greatest in this age of magazines. Its recent display of enterprise in paying $25,000 for the exclusive serial rights of Conan Doyle's new romance, "Sir Nigel," compelled even the editors of the famous monthlies to acknowledge the presence of a new and powerful rival.

When this was followed by Anthony Hope's new Zenda romance, "Sophy of Brantford," the business world needed no further proof that the Sunday Magazine of the Record-Herald was able to capture the finest and most costly new fiction offered in England and America. Its illustrations and cover designs in colors have from the beginning been of unsurpassed beauty and artistic grace. It is short stories, detective stories, humor, poetry and sketches of all kinds are the choicest that the literary market affords, many of them being written by the most popular authors and magazine contributors in the United States. In short, it is an entertaining, high-class magazine that will bear comparison with the best independent weeklies or monthlies, whatever the price.

There is nothing else like it in American journalism.

A new style of head dressing called the "natte" is all the rage in Paris. It is a braid "full and fluffy and thick." Its essential parts are a pompadour in front and a braid on either side, made of the back hair, and terminating in a crown on the chignon, the whole being given a "sloped effect."

State College of Kentucky,

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

THE STATE COLLEGE, of Kentucky offers the following courses, namely, Agricultural, Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Normal School, Classical and seven Scientific courses, each of which extends over four years and leads to the Bachelor's degree. Each course is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty, consisting of professors, assistant professors and instructors, numbers over fifty. County appointees receive free tuition, privilege of residence in dormitories, fuel and lights and traveling expenses, if they remain ten consecutive months, or one collegiate year. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military Science is fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates in the several courses of study readily find employment with liberal remuneration. The total number of matriculates last year was 900. Each department has a specialist at its head, with the necessary number of assistants.

Summer schools are provided for in Pedagogy, Engineering, and instruction in Science and the Liberal Arts. The young women find an excellent home, with board and lodging in Patterson Hall, which is well equipped with all modern conveniences, bath-rooms, hall for physical culture, at $5.00 per week. All the courses of study in the College are open to young women upon identical conditions with those applying to males.

The attendance upon the Normal School in connection with the Department of Education last year more than doubled that of any preceding year.

Three new buildings, namely, one for the department of Education, one for Agricultural Science, and a Library Hall, are in process of erection and will be completed early in the next collegiate year.

For Catalogues, methods of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to

He walked to the door, flung it swiftly and silently open, and stepping within, closed it behind him with his left hand. In the other glittered the steel-blue barrel of a drawn revolver.

"Slavin, sit down!"

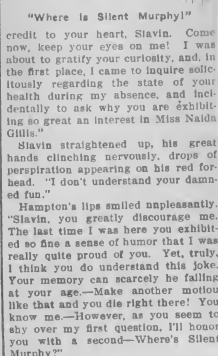

The terse, imperative words seemed fairly to cut the air, and the red-bearded gambler, who had half risen to his feet, an oath upon his lips, sank back into his seat, staring at the upstart confronting him as if fascinated.

The big gambler was thinking harder then, perhaps, than he had ever thought in his life before. He knew Hampton would kill him if he needed to do so, but he likewise realized that he was not likely to fire until he had gained the information he was seeking. If he only knew how much information the other possessed it would be easy enough. As he did not, he must wield his weapon blindly.
